Rest In Knotty Pieces

by Tea Ravine

BOOK DESCRIPTION

Pain, death and a shattered landscape.

That is my legacy.

It’s all I have to offer anyone who might want me.

My footsteps leave a trail of blood that goes straight back to the killer that’s hunting me. He won’t ever stop. I belong to him, even if fate says otherwise.

Even if this pack says otherwise.

But I’m going to make my play for a life outside of what I was born into.

One last attempt at freedom and I’ve got the most perfect weapons to heal my broken soul and light a fire inside me.

Roseland, a detective who is burning out and straddles two worlds.

Pix, the sexy serial killer omega who stares at me like he doesn’t know if I’m friend or foe.

Blaze, an alpha who dances with his blades and sanity on the finest thread.

King with his bloody fists and his silent devotion that breaks all my barriers.

Rolly, crazy, wild and just needing someone like me to love him back.

And Sage…an untamable alpha who wears a smile to hide the rage behind his eyes.

They can save me and I can save them, but only if we can find a way to work together.

I know we can have our happy ever after.

They just need to trust me- all of me. My secrets won't stay hidden for long and when they come out…I'll find out where we really stand.

We rise and fall together, for better, for worse, in sickness and health, in those good times, and when we need to bury the bodies.

Rest in Pieces, my pack, I'll see you very soon.

Love always, your omega.
