BOOK DESCRIPTION

Mistaken Identity, protective mountain man, instalove, forced proximity, small town gossip, he falls first

She came to Iron Peak to disappear. He sees her the moment she walks in.

After escaping a controlling ex, she's rebuilding her life on her own, one shaky step at a time. New town, new job, a new chance at peace. The last thing she expects is a new love. But when the town's former military hero mistakes her for the blind date his sister arranged, she feels safer than she has in years. James knows instantly she's meant to be his. A quiet, rugged protector with a wounded heart, he's ready to claim a future with her no matter what shadows follow her into Iron Peak.

Welcome to Iron Peak, where rugged hearts meet small-town charm in a world of wild beauty and instant passion. Tucked deep in the Colorado mountains, each story follows a gruff, loyal man who finds the woman he never knew he was looking for—and will do anything to keep her.

These are fast, steamy, happily-ever-after tales packed with devotion, wilderness, and a whole lot of heat. Fall for your next favorite mountain man as 12 authors bring you new instalove stories full of warmth, wild hearts, and the kind of love that strikes like lightning.
