BOOK DESCRIPTION

Eden and Sloane found their happily ever after. Now they have to decide what comes next.

Eden Sawyer thought she had life figured out.

She’s married. She’s successful. She owns a house and has somehow become the sort of person who cares about laundry settings.

Sloane Bishop, meanwhile, has a secret.

It involves babies.

And feelings.

And the very real possibility of blowing up their perfectly good life by saying the quiet part out loud.

Between work stress, surprise houseguests and a future that suddenly feels very loud, Eden and Sloane find themselves facing the one conversation they’ve been carefully jogging around for years: what happens when one of them wants more?

As the pressure builds and the stakes rise, they must decide whether love is enough to carry them forward—or whether changing pace means changing everything.

Funny, sharp and full of heart, The Pace of Us delivers domestic chaos, grown-up romance and a satisfying conclusion to the Love in Motion series—a story in which choosing each other was never the question. Only how.

The Pace of Us is the third and final book in the Love in Motion series.
