BOOK DESCRIPTION

I watched him standing over my father with a gun in his hand.

Seven years later, the man I swore to destroy became the one man I couldn't stop wanting.

Dante Voss was supposed to be my enemy.

Falling in love with him was the one betrayal I never saw coming.

Elena Cross has spent seven years haunted by the night her family was destroyed.

The burning house. The gunshots. Her father's blood. And the ruthless biker she believes was responsible for everything.

Dante Voss.

Feared president of the Iron Reapers Motorcycle Club. A dangerously powerful alpha male with a brutal reputation, a mysterious past, and secrets that could destroy the entire brotherhood.

Elena promised herself she would never forgive him.

But when a mysterious inheritance brings her back to Black Hollow, she discovers that her father's abandoned motorcycle workshop contains evidence connected to the tragedy that changed her life.

Hidden photographs. Secret financial records. A mysterious unidentified man.

And a warning that leads straight back to Dante.

Elena wants answers.

Dante wants her gone.

But when threatening messages and dangerous enemies begin closing in, the man she hates becomes the only person capable of protecting her.

Forced into close proximity, their explosive confrontations ignite a forbidden attraction neither is prepared to acknowledge.

Every argument brings them closer.

Every stolen glance threatens their hatred.

And every forbidden touch makes Elena question everything she thought she knew about the man she swore to destroy.

But Dante is hiding more than his feelings.

A dangerous conspiracy has been buried beneath the Iron Reapers' brotherhood for years, and someone is willing to sacrifice anyone who gets too close to the truth.

With the ruthless Black Serpents threatening her safety and betrayal spreading through the motorcycle club, Elena must decide whether trusting Dante will save her life or destroy what remains of her heart.

Dante has spent years protecting secrets that could bring his world crashing down.

Now the one woman he should never love has become the only person he refuses to lose.

But love cannot survive on desire alone.

And when the truth finally emerges, both must confront the devastating consequences of their families' past.

The Man I Was Supposed to Hate is an emotionally intense enemies-to-lovers motorcycle club romance featuring forbidden desire, a ruthless MC president, a fiercely independent heroine, dangerous family secrets, forced proximity, possessive alpha love, brotherhood betrayal, romantic suspense, and hard-earned redemption.

Perfect for readers who crave dark biker romance, powerful motorcycle club presidents, strong heroines, dangerous attraction, intense emotional chemistry, family mysteries, protective alpha heroes, and unforgettable happily-ever-afters.

She returned to destroy the man she believed had ruined her life.

He was supposed to be her greatest enemy.

But sometimes the most dangerous person to love is the one your heart was never supposed to choose.
