BOOK DESCRIPTION

A magical, heartfelt and emotional standalone friends to lovers fated bond MM romance

Born with a powerful kinetic Gift, Nathan Warner is trapped in a cage made of his father's expectations. His only escape is the time he spends with his best friend Will Savea, a rare Blank born into a loving Gifted family. Their friendship is forged in their differences, and transformed by their first kiss, revealing a fated bond that's meant to last forever.

But then catastrophe strikes: Will and Nathan are separated, weakening their connection until their bond fades away to nothing.

When they're eventually reunited, the odds are stacked against them: Will is convinced the bond broke for a reason; Nathan's father won't stop calling; and the Savea family are keeping a secret that could change everything.

Love always finds a way, but can it really win against a broken fated bond?
