My Orc Has Big Tusks

The Creature Rescue League

My Orc Has Big Tusks

by Ava Ross

BOOK DESCRIPTION

One small-town vet. One soft-hearted orc. Could he be her forever home?

Laina: When I answered an emergency call in the middle of a storm, I expected to treat an injured bird, not fall for the seven-foot-tall orc who owns the Creature Rescue League. Brovish is all gentle hands and worried frowns, the kind of guy who names every animal and writes about them in a worn notebook like they're family. He's also jaw-droppingly gorgeous…but I'm not supposed to notice that about someone I'm working for. But when a tiny orange emberkit chooses me as her person and driftwhisps start decorating my hair, I realize this wild, messy, wonderful place might be exactly where I'm meant to be. If I'm brave enough to stay.

Brovish: For two years, I've poured everything into the Creature Rescue League, creating a safe haven for orc kingdom animals in need of forever homes. Then Laina walks through my door in the middle of a rainstorm, fixes a bird's broken wing like she's been treating orc kingdom creatures her whole life, and talks to me like I matter. Even our grumpy snugglethorn adores her. I’m trying to stay professional, but when she smiles at me like she cares, I know I’m in trouble. Now I just have to convince her that this place—and me—are worth fighting for.

My Orc Has Big Tusks is Book 1 in the Creature Rescue League Series. Expect a cozy Earth-based world, slow-burn spice, quirky side characters and whimsical creatures, a swoony orc hero, and a HEA.
