BOOK DESCRIPTION

She thinks I'm a violent outlaw.

I think she's a spoiled rich girl hidin' somethin' that belongs to my club.

And neither one of us is backing down.

Cora's off-limits. Fifteen years younger than me, filthy rich, with a smart mouth and enough attitude to drive me crazy.

Our worlds ain't supposed to cross.

But when I save her from three knife-wielding thugs, I find out they're after a valuable ring her dead husband stole.

A ring that belongs to my club's founder.

She swears she knows nothin'. I think she's lyin'. And she thinks I'm just another criminal in a leather cut.

Hell of a way to start a relationship.

When those bastards come after her again, I take her under my protection while we hunt down what's ours.

Now she's under my roof, looking down her pretty nose at my world while making it damn hard to keep my hands off her.

Trouble is, the more I get to know her, the more I realize I've got her all wrong.

And judging by the way she looks at me, she might be having the same problem.

She's supposed to be trouble. Instead, she's becoming mine.

Merc is the 8th installment in the Sons of Rage MC series.

Each book in the series is a standalone with a guaranteed happily ever after, packed with steamy chemistry, raw emotion, and protective, dangerous bikers who'll burn the world down for their women.

For the best ride, read the series in order.
