Dead O'Clock

by Pandora Pine

BOOK DESCRIPTION

Ding! Dong! You’re dead!

The letters arrive without warning.

No return address. No fingerprints. Just a single page predicting the recipient’s death and the exact time it will happen.

At first, no one takes them seriously. Then the first person dies exactly as the letter predicted.

When more letters begin appearing, Detective Ronan O’Mara and psychic Tennyson Grimm are called in to investigate. Ten senses that the letters aren't just predicting deaths, but are connected to something that happened long ago, something that refuses to stay buried.

As the death toll rises, Ten and Ronan race to find whoever is sending the letters.

Because the next letter has already been delivered.

And this one has Ronan’s name on it.
