A Curvy Girl's Hurricane Survival Guide

by Giuliana Locay

BOOK DESCRIPTION

Rule #1: When life throws you a Category 5 toxic ex, sometimes the best thing to do is run straight into the storm.

Cai De la Cerda was supposed to be chasing her boyfriend to Puerto Rico. Instead, a hurricane rerouted her straight into the arms of a charming stranger named Sonny, and her loud, loving, extremely nosy Cuban family.

Between forced proximity, glowing nostalgia beetles, resurfacing family stories (or as Cai calls them, “childhood trauma”) and one too many pop culture references, Cai learns three important survival rules:

Some exes aren’t worth chasing.

Some storms are worth riding out.

And sometimes the right man is the one sitting next to you in coach when everything else is falling apart.

Warning: May contain excessive arroz con leche, glittercovered signs, and feelings.

Don’t panic. Just hold on to your butts!
