Wrong Number Right Grumpy Navy SEAL

by Lana Love

BOOK DESCRIPTION

One grumpy ex-Navy SEAL + One curvy damsel in distress + One wrong number = A steamy brother's best friend romance!

I'm six weeks out of the Navy and staying at my buddy's place while I figure out what's next. I don't know who I am without a mission.

Then I get a text that gives me one.

I can't be alone right now. Please. I can't be here when he shows up. I need you! Come get me. Please!

Wrong number. I don't know who this is. Don't need to. A woman needs help and that's all I need to know.

When I walk into the party, I see her instantly. It's my buddy's sister. She has curves that stop me dead, and dark eyes that make me forget my demons.

I get her out of there without a second thought.

I tell myself I did a good deed and that's the end of it. Then I see her again, and I know I'm done for.

She's my best friend's sister. When Jared finds out I'm going to make her my wife, that's going to be its own problem. But I can't say no to this curvy beauty.

She said please once, and I drove across town without thinking.

Now she's saying it again — please don't go — and I know I never will.

From rugged mountain men to broody blue-collar heroes, an unexpected wrong number sparks instant attraction, undeniable chemistry, and enough trouble to change lives forever. Turns out, the wrong number might be exactly right.

Wrong Number, Right Grump is a multi-author series of short, steamy instalove romances with guaranteed happily-ever-afters.
