BOOK DESCRIPTION

I've been a stewardess on private jets for three years, but nothing prepares me for my new boss.

Rich, powerful, and ridiculously handsome, Marcus Pierce is every woman's fantasy. And somehow, he's decided I'm his.

While serving him, I try to be cool, calm, and a tad seductive...

And then promptly spill cold champagne all over his crotch.

I'm certain I'm getting fired.

Instead, he changes the destination of his private jet mid-air.

For me.

He brings me to The Empire Suite on Isla Verdanza, where billionaires play and women fall at their feet.

The resort is absolute luxury, the weather is perfect, and the man who can't keep his eyes (or his hands) off me is pure temptation.

I’ve been saving my virginity for the right man.

I just never imagined he’d be a possessive, filthy-rich, dirty-talking billionaire who’s determined to spoil me rotten.

Marcus Pierce wants to make me his.

And he’s the type of firm, commanding man who always gets what he wants.

I’m pretty sure the employee handbook doesn’t cover this…

Marcus Pierce owns a private jet, a billion-dollar empire, and just about anything else a man could want. But the moment he lays eyes on his bubbly new stewardess, nothing else matters. Now all he wants is her.

An irresistible age-gap, boss/employee, instalove romance with an obsessed alpha billionaire, his innocent new stewardess, and a tropical getaway neither of them will ever forget. Set at the luxurious Aurelia resort—where billionaires get everything they desire.

SAFE, no cheating, and a sweet HEA
